

National Indigenous Children's Day

Happy morning in Canberra

KINGSFORD
Smith Koori
Preschool in Canberra
celebrated

National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children's Day with Indigenous business
Curijo.

Curijo staff visited the preschool for crafts and storytelling.

The morning was spent reading Neil Murray's My Island Home and making sea creatures out of
pom-poms, glitter,
coloured pencils and other craft materials.

The children received some books by Indigenous authors from Curijo as a thank-you gift for sharing their Children's Day
celebrations.

Curijo's Lauren Dunlop said there was fun all round, and children and adults are looking forward to making the visit an annual event.

● Pictured left: Curijo's Lauren Dunlop reads to the children.